

Weeping Hill Burlington can call for drainage bids

The last obstacle has been removed toward a call for bids to make drains, on the side of Weeping Hill, and thus divert the waters that have been flooding cellars and yards for nearly one year, in the southerly part of Wilmington, near the Woburn - Burlington line.

James R. Miceli, chairman of the Wilmington Selectmen announced Monday that the last necessary signature, of land owners involved, had been obtained. Work cannot be performed on private property by contractors without permission, and in the case of a municipality this means written permission. Mr. Miceli had obtained the last necessary signature the Thursday before.

Under the terms of an agreement between Burlington and Wilmington the work of constructing drains for the waters of Weeping Hill will be performed by the Town of Burlington or its contractors. Burlington feels that Wilmington should pay half of the costs, and Wilmington feels that Burlington should pay all of the costs, but both towns have agreed to get the work done, and then argue about costs afterwards.

Presumably Burlington will be calling for bids in May, and the work may be started in early June.

Selectmen will discuss water rates

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen are planning a discussion on the water rates of Wilmington. New rates are scheduled to go into effect on May first.

The date and time of the discussion is to be set by James R. Miceli, chairman.

The subject of the water rates came up late, in the meeting of April 22nd, after Danny Gillis had observed that he felt a 50% increase in rates was unfair, when the small user was compared to the big user. Gillis was followed by remarks from George Boylen, who said "we should really think this one out."

The discussion will probably take place in the next meeting.

GANG WAY: Dave Zaine learned not to get in the way of Quent Risher, or at least his character did, in a rehearsal of the Wilmington Spotlighters' production of "Never Too Late." Also in scene is Sue Dew.

Wilmington Spotlighters go under gun again for "Never Too Late"

Whether a reader likes a newspaper critic's opinion about a theatrical production or not, most enjoy agreeing or disagreeing with him about a show. It is the same with the Wilmington Spotlighters.

They have invited Bob Morris, normally editor of the Tewksbury Town Crier, to review their production of "Never Too Late" at 8 p.m., Friday, April 26, and Saturday, April 27, at Wilmington High School. Even though Morris' critique of their 1973 production of "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" stirred up a hornet's nest.

He termed that musical "less than totally successful." The book and score were at fault, he explained, with staging problems inherent in the theme of swinging back and forth from reality to dreamland and dry, humorous songs that gave the players no hit numbers to sink their teeth into.

He observed that even a professional company would have a difficult time with that show, and that the audience recognized this and appreciated the Spotlighters' efforts.

That review prompted a letter to the editor from the board of directors of the Spotlighters, criticizing the critic, his qualifications and their belief the audience that saw the production disagreed with him.

Privately, several members of the theatre group got word to Morris that they agreed with his

Wilmington Minute Men marched on April 19th

The State Legislature may go on making all the holidays it wants in Massachusetts on Monday, or any other day, but in Concord, Mass. the 19th of April is still on the 19th of April, even if it falls on a Friday. It was a holiday last Friday, the 190th anniversary of the Battle of the Concord Bridge, and there were Minute Men in Concord from all parts of Middlesex County again, ready to fight the British.

There were also, for the first time in 190 years, British soldiers, the 10th Regiment of Foot, that being the Regiment which was in the van, 190 years ago. The present day 10th Regiment is an organization from Chelmsford, Mass., and the British Consul in Boston was among the dignitaries who observed the 10th Regiment (about 25 men) in Concord, last Friday.

Wilmington was represented by eight Minute Men, all of whom marched from Wilmington, starting at the traditional hour of 3 am. It was the largest group of Minute Men ever to make the march, in the past 190 years. Each of the eight men will receive a little medal, hanging on a green ribbon, to signify that he has made that march. The medal, of course, will hang from the tunic of the Minute Men Uniform.

The custom of making an April 19th March to Concord was started three years ago by Privates Willis Whalen and Jeff Coville of Wilmington. Each year since then the number of men marching to Concord has grown.

An unknown female, each year, has observed the Wilmington

Minute Men, as they marched. She was again present this year, watching them from her car, which bore Connecticut plates. The Wilmington Minute Men call her the British Spy.

Other Minute Men marched, too, of course, but Wilmington was the first to arrive at Concord, beating the arrival of the Acton Company by just a few minutes.

There was a Pancake Breakfast, served at 6 am by the Concord Lions Club, and even the 10th Regiment of Foot ate pancakes, along with the boys from Wilmington, Lexington, Belmont, etc., all of whom had marched to Concord.

The Parade - that started at 9 am. There was a total of 96 units in that parade.

CAPT. DAVID HILL: And Wilmington Minute Men, after they had arrived at Concord, last Friday. Capt. Hill is wearing the minuteman. Others in the picture are Privates Young, Garvey (holding the guidon) and Coville. Others who marched were Privates Willis Whalen, Phil Coulborth, Ben Fuller, and Bruce Babcock.

Congress proclaims April 30 a national day of humiliation, fasting and prayer

The original April 30th Resolution calling our Nation to a Day of Fasting, Prayer and Humiliation, grew out of bitter disappointments and dark days of 1863. President Abraham Lincoln had a profound sense of sovereignty of God. He knew how the Nation stood accountable to God's judgement. In the midst of the Civil War, the U.S. Senate requested and Lincoln responded on three separate occasions to a resolution setting aside a day such as our Nation has again been called to on April 30.

Seeing the effects of a Nation torn apart, President Lincoln did not appeal to any pretentious image of national selfrighteousness, rather he called the Nation to repentance. He believed that only through the acknowledgement of our corporate guilt and confession of national sins that the country could regain its national purpose and unity.

Lincoln recognized that "we have forgotten God."

Today our Nation has once again been torn apart by a crisis from which there appears little relief. Our refusal to acknowledge our dependence and need for a power beyond ourselves has severely damaged our national soul. Mark Hatfield, December 1973 before the Congress of the United States. There is hope for a land and a people who have the capacity to recognize their sins and their faults and turn from them. Repentance means precisely this to turn the other way. Surely we must recognize we cannot blame the youth of our Nation, we must look to ourselves.

God is not a liar...let's take him at his word "If my people who are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, will forgive their sins, and will heal their lands." II Chronicles 7:14

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 183 - National Day for Humiliation, Fasting, and Prayer

"WHEREAS, it is the duty of nations, as well as of men to owe their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions, in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations are blessed whose God is Lord; and

"WHEREAS, we know that we have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown; but we have forgotten God; and

"WHEREAS, we have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace, and multiplied, and enriched us; and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own; and

"WHEREAS, intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us; and

"WHEREAS, we have made such an idol out of our pursuit of 'national security' that we have forgotten that only God can be the ultimate guardian of our true livelihood and safety; and

"WHEREAS, we have failed to respond, personally and collectively, with sacrifice and uncompromised commitment to the unmet needs of our fellow man, both at home and abroad; as a people, we have become so absorbed with the selfish pursuit of pleasure and profit that we have blinded ourselves to God's standard of justice and righteousness for this society; and

"WHEREAS, it therefore behooves us to humble ourselves before Almighty God, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness; Now, therefore be it

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress Assembled, that the Congress hereby proclaims that April 30, 1974 be a National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer; and calls upon the people of our nation to humble themselves as we see fit, before our Creator to acknowledge our final dependence upon Him and to repent of our national sins."

Senate Joint Resolution 183 was passed by the United States Senate on December 20, 1973. It is still pending in the House of Representatives as of March 26, 1974.

The Churches of Wilmington will be open on April 30 for prayer and meditation as follows:

Rent-A-Kid is an odd job employment program for youngsters 13-18 years of age. Rent-A-Kids perform almost any job around the house and get paid from $1.25 to $2.50 per hour. Because of age restrictions, young people find it almost impossible to get work, but Rent-A-Kid provides an alternative.

Rent-A-Kid is also very useful for homeowners. Often there is work to be done around the house, but nobody to do it. Now, just call 658-8841 and a boy or girl will be sent out to do the job. All Rent-A-Kids directly referred by the program are insured up to $7,500 at no cost to the employers. Also in the near future all babysitters will have attended a course on childcare given by the Red Cross.

The Rent-A-Kid Program is sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Lowell, the National Alliance of Businessmen, and SHARE Inc. Presently there are about 35 youngsters enrolled in the program, but during the summer, upwards of 50 youth will be involved in the program. All Wilmington job orders will be filled by Wilmington youth.

Homeowners can place job orders by calling 658-8841 or by stopping by the office at 176 Lowell St., Lowell. Job orders must be placed one day in advance.

The Cardinal, Tufted Titmouse and Mocking Bird census

Every year, about the middle of February, the Massachusetts Audubon Society conducts throughout the state a census of the Cardinal, Tufted Titmouse, and the Mockingbird and this is to report that the Town of Wilmington did not do too badly in the census of February, 1974.

Thanks to the inspiration of Frank Tuttle of Carson Avenue, Wilmington had a group of volunteer census takers, in February, and the results show that they were at work. There were 27 Cardinals, 30 Tufted Titmice and three Mockingbirds in Wilmington on that day in mid-February.

On the same day, in Tewksbury, there were no Cardinals reported, four Tufted Titmice, and one Mockingbird, while in Billerica there were three Titmice and one Mockingbird. North Reading had four, 12 and one respectively.

It is not that there were fewer birds in the other towns, but that there were more counters in Wilmington.

Wilmington however, was not in top place in Middlesex County. There were, for instance, 196 Tufted Titmice seen in Sherborn, and 149 in Reading, and both Lexington and Lincoln topped Wilmington, Lexington having 81 Cardinals and Lincoln 87.

Wilmington would not have placed as well as it did, in the Cardinal, Tufted Titmouse and Mockingbird count were it not for Mr. Tuttle. Frank is the guy who did a count of the ferns, in the Town Park, about four years ago, listing them by variety and genus, and there was a story in the Town Crier about it. He is also the man who leads the Bird Walks down in the Ipswich Sanctuary, and there have been stories about this in the Town Crier, which stories have increased the number of participants. The Town Crier does not know how many assistant bird counters Mr. Tuttle had on that mid-February date - but now maybe there will be still more bird-watchers in Wilmington come next February.

The Middlesex Canal Association is to meet at 2 pm in the 1970 House, on Main Street in North Woburn on Saturday. The meeting will be public. The main speaker is to be Malcolm E. Graf, associated commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works.

His subject will be "Perspective on an Old Waterway."

Following the meeting Roy Scouts of Winchester are to conduct a tour along the Ox Bow, in Wilmington Town Park. The name Ox Bow comes from the shape made by the canal, as it would around the hill in the present town park.

The Scouts will show the two

Realtor (R) more than real estate broker

"A Realtor (R) is more than a real estate broker," says Realtor (R) Ruth Hicks, president of the Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors (R). "The term is a registered trademark and an indicator of special qualifications because only a member of the National Association of Realtors (R) can identify himself by that term."

Reviewing the code of ethics on the third day of Realtor (R) Week, Realtor (R) Ruth Hicks pointed out that it was one of the first such codes adopted in the history of American business. "Under its articles," she said, "Realtors (R) pledge fair treatment and the benefit of their total real estate knowledge to both parties of a contract, the buyer and seller."

Realtor (R) Ruth Hicks also praised Wilmington Realtors (R) leadership over the years in furthering the institution of private property ownership and speaking out on issues favorable to the ownership of property.

Realtor (R) Week (April 21-27) is not only the time to honor the American Realtors (R), but also a time to point out the Realtors (R) obligation to all clients - buyer and seller. Realtor (R) Ruth Hicks asserted.

"Realtors (R)" she added, "contribute greatly to America's prosperity. Realtors (R) promote property and home ownership, both by business in which they are engaged and by support of favorable legislation. This has made home ownership possible for millions of families who could not previously afford it."

Has the United States joined the Town Crier?

Has the United States of America joined the Town Crier?

Well, not exactly, but it seems that there is some thinking going on relative to utility rates that are worth discussing.

For more than a few months some of the people of Wilmington have been having a discussion with the gentlemen of the Board of Water Commissioners relative to water rates in Wilmington. The group is small, and the conversations have always been low keyed. Participating, for instance, and agreeing with the editor of the Town Crier has been the Chairman of the Finance Committee and a past Chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

The points are two. One, the Wilmington Water Department is a publicly owned utility. Your editor doesn't think it is exactly fair for residents of Wilmington to be charged at a rate three times as much as are some of the industries, but they are. Those residents are part of the organization that makes up Wilmington. They are being discriminated against.

Two, if the same rate were charged everyone there would have to be an increase in the industrial rate and there would be a decrease in the residential rate. It could be so worked out that there would be more revenue for the municipally owned water department - and this is important.

One of the difficulties of the water department is that it is more or less suffering from a lack of income. Their people are very good at maintenance, employees of whom the town may be proud, but there is not enough money to take care of some needed extensions. With more revenue this could be done.

With more revenue, with needed extensions, etc., some of the areas which are zoned for industry and which have inadequate water supplies could be the locale for new industry, which would pay more taxes, which would in turn reduce the tax rate for the industries, not to mention the ordinary taxpayers of Wilmington. Everyone would save money.

That's what is called Leverage, and Wilmington is a place where that kind of leverage could take place.

The Board of Water Commissioners take the position that such an act is beyond the scope of their office, and that it should be the Town Manager or the Board of Selectmen who should do the thinking on such a subject. Their job, they say, is to run the water department, and, incidentally, a sewer department.

That's where the subject has become interesting, all of a sudden.

By an act of the state legislature the Water & Sewer Department some years ago was given the task of setting sewer rates, in Wilmington, after Wilmington was hooked up to the MDC sewer. The Board of Commissioners set a rate of three fifth of the water bill for individual homes, or for industry, figuring that this was a fair way of doing things.

Then, a year or so ago, the sewer was extended, up the Boston & Maine Railroad tracks toward Wilmington Center. Federal funds were used in the process, and that put Uncle Sam into the picture.

Uncle Sam has decreed that the sewer rates in Wilmington shall be the same for everyone, small home owner or large industrial firm. For better or worse, Uncle Sam seems to feel when it comes to sewers, as does the Town Crier when it comes to water supplies - municipally owned water supplies.

One of the firms being served by that sewer is objecting. The bills are too high, it says. Never mind the name of the firm - it is not important to this date.

But it seems as though there will be a suit, in court. Maybe Uncle Sam will be joining the Town Crier.

Mrs. Shaw, along with Cleo Fredette, Wilmington's Director of Special Education, will discuss how SEEM began, how it works, and where it is going in the future, followed by a question and answer period. The public is invited to attend.

At its last meeting Wilmington's ACLD elected its new officers and Board of Directors for the 1974-75 year. Elected were: President, Barbara Cogan, Vice President, Arlene Portenza, Recording Secretary, Mary Shultz.

Bits & Pieces

Working Willie
Willie Whalen is quite a guy. The Hathaway Acres resident is a Design Engineer for Com-pugraphic, and now he has another way to add to the family income - Secretary, Mary Shultz.

He is in the Wilmington Company of Minute Men, has made the march to Concord three times, is a Past Worshipful Master of the Friendship Chapter of Masons, and is one of those busy people who also run the Bloodmobile for Wilmington, so that everyone in Wilmington sort of owes him a debt.

Willie is also a skilled instrumentalist, guitar and that sort of instrument, and he has taken up (with his wife Shirley) the entertainment of patrons at the Barnside Restaurant, in North Reading, on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Fishermen
Last week the Wilmington Town Crier had a picture of a young fisherman and a 17 inch bass. The results could be predicted.

Thursday there were dozens of young people down behind the Masonic Hall, trying their luck, and according to others who saw it, the boys were almost elbow to elbow on Friday.

But, nary a bass was caught.

Blooper
Also, last week, the Town Crier reported on a straw vote, taken in the School Committee meeting two weeks ago in the Woburn Street School. It concerned the Six Day Week of the North School, and perhaps inferentially, the West School.

The Town Crier reported two against and a dozen or so in favor. The Town Crier was in error. It was the other way around, only two in favor, and all the others who voted being against.

Marathoner
Recently there was an item about Dave Boeri, who ran in the Marathon, in Boston, and among other items mentioned the Town Crier noted that he had been in nearly every picture in his High School Year Book - all except the Girls' Field Hockey Team.

Somebody who read that counted up the pictures in that yearbook, and reports that Dave Boeri was in thirty-three of them. That's quite a few.

Dave will be taking part in the Wilmington Marathon, which is scheduled to come up in a few weeks.

Frank Sierrazza of Fairmeadow Rd., Wilmington has returned home from St. John's Hospital where he had been confined following a suspected heart seizure. Reportedly (fortunately) tests showed no evidence of a heart ailment. Frank is feeling fine again.

The Bluebirds and Adventure Girls of the Wilmington Campfire Girls Program held true to their slogan "Give Service." On Thursday March 28, the girls cleaned up the area into the Youth Ice Arena and the parking lot around it.

As a reward for their service, the girls enjoyed ice skating time during their April vacation.

Bill Merrill of Pinewood Rd. has been preparing for the Wilmington Town Clean-Up. He has been picking up the beer cans along the railroad tracks in North Wilmington. Bill says he has plenty of plastic bags for anyone who would like to help clean up the mess.

Mrs. Alice Chisholm of Hopkins St., prominent Wilmington Golden Ager is currently undergoing tests at Malden Hospital where she has been confined this week.

Wade Motherless
Wade Holbrook, Wilmington High School senior, and a resident of Church Street is to be one of the musicians in the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra's joint concert, Sunday at the Sanders Theatre in Cambridge, at 3 pm. The director is to be Walter Eisenberg, and no tickets are required.

Wade, who recently was in this paper as a Junior Rotarian, specializes in brass, in his music. He is one of the regular members of the Youth Symphony Orchestra.

New Tenant
When the new tenant moves into the Colonel Harnden Tavern, soon, it will be none other than Wilmington's Town Manager, Sterling Morris. No announcement has been made, but the selection was said to be in agreement that this would be the easiest and best way to preserve the old tavern in safety.

Nickel is a silver-like white metal with a yellowish cast. Though solid nickel is available, nickel is mainly used as a component of a metal known as nickelene.

Nickelene is an alloy made of copper, zinc, and nickel. Nickelene is also known as white metal, white bronze, and nickel silver.

It is strong, tough, and highly resistant to wear and corrosion. As you might imagine, the durable properties of the alloy make it as desirable as the pure metal, and some claim that the alloy is also stronger.

TOWN CRIER THURSDAY APRIL 25, 1974

Saturday Mass in Melrose for the Rev. Bernard F. Doucette, S.J.

There is to be a Mass in St. Mary's Church in Melrose at 11 am Saturday for the Rev. Bernard F. Doucette, S.J. Father Doucette died in Manila, Philippine Islands on April 17, 1974, in his 67th year in the Society of Jesus.

Father Doucette graduated from Wilmington High School, the Valedictorian of his class, in 1913. His father was Bernard Doucette, who built a nice home on Middlesex Avenue, in North Wilmington, later called the Madame Eames home. Bernard Doucette was a stock broker in Boston.

The grandfather was Jeremiah Doucette, better known as Jerry, who built the Doucette family home on Ballardvale Street about 1884. Jerry Doucette was, in the vernacular of 100 years ago in Wilmington, a "Freshman," meaning that he was from Nova Scotia. He was the first of many people from Nova Scotia to emigrate to Wilmington, and he worked in the Nod Mill lumber mill as a sawyer, while building his home and raising his family. Jerry Doucette established the first Catholic Sunday School in Wilmington, in the old Samuel Eames House, called at that time the "Shamrock," and located across the street from Photon, on Middlesex Avenue.

Before the establishment of St. Thomas Church Catholic families used to attend Mass at Ballardvale on Sunday mornings, taking the train from North Wilmington, and Jerry Doucette established the Sunday School to take care of the children while the parents were in Ballardvale.

His son Bernard did well as a stock broker, and Fr. Doucette was born in Wilmington on August 26, 1895.

In 1912 the Bernard Doucette family moved to Melrose, but Bernard's son, Bernard continued to attend Wilmington High School, graduating with his class in 1913. He joined the Society of Jesus in 1917, in Poughkeepsie, New York.

In 1924 he became a Regent, serving in the Philippines at the Vigan Seminary College, at the San Jose Seminary, and at the Manila Observatory. In 1927 he returned to the United States, to become a Theologian at Weston College.

It was in Weston College that he was ordained a Priest, in 1930 after which he returned to Poughkeepsie to serve as a Tutor for a year in the Jesuit School there.

In 1932 Fr. Doucette became a special student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the study of Meteorology (weather).

One year later he was appointed the Chief of the Meteorology Division of the Philippine Weather Observatory, in Manila, where he became a prisoner of war, nine years later, when Japan invaded that country. He was a prisoner for three years, in the Ateneo de Manila, in Fort Santiago, and in the Santo Tomas Concentration Camp.

He was liberated when the U.S. Army freed Manila, and returned to the United States, for, among other things, some quiet visiting in Wilmington. Then he returned to the Philippines.

In 1946 Father Doucette was appointed professor, serving at Novaliches, and at the Ateneo de Cagayan. In 1951 he was transferred to the Manila Observatory again, at Baguio, where he was in charge of the studies of seismic activities (earthquakes). He served as Head of Seismic Work at Baguio for eleven years, and was then transferred to a similar position in Manila, in 1962.

Fr. Doucette returned to the United States in 1967, as a Golden Jubilarian, having served fifty years in the Society of Jesus. After one year, part of which was spent in Wilmington, he returned to Manila, where in 1969, he was stricken ill with a stroke.

He lingered on, in ill health, for five years, before finally passing away on April 17th.

There are many people in Wilmington who were related to Fr. Doucette. The most prominent is probably Alice Doucette, RN, now 92 years old, who was his aunt, and who lives in the same house that Jerry built, so many years ago.

Let's Talk Real Estate

Alan E. Fenton,
Realtor

When you buy a new house, your lender for your mortgage will have his own appraiser, or one of his choice, determine the market value of the house which you are interested in.

This is a safeguard for the lender and a double check for you. You will naturally want to buy a house with a future, so it is always worthwhile to have an independent opinion about the house in question.

The appraiser will judge the house in terms of its location, condition, and depreciation possibilities.

You'll profit by the professional knowledge and experience of the friendly salesperson at A & M Fenton Realty, Inc., 104 Lowell St., Rt. 129, Wilmington, 658-3221, 944-6557. We know how to sell your property for full market value and can handle all the details for you with competence; why not call us today with your listing? Open 9-5, seven days; evenings by appointment.

Helpful Hint: Want to sell your house? The best way to do so is to make sure it is in good repair and looks well kept.
